

The Office of Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion presents

Restorative Justice Week Lunch & Learn

What is restorative justice and why does it matter to the law?

Join us for a lunch and learn with Brandy Loveland, LMSW, to learn about restorative justice and why it matters to you, as a future lawyer. All law students are welcome!

Tuesday, November 22
12:00 p.m. – 1:00 p.m.
533 O'Brian Hall

Lunch will be provided!

RSVP here,
walk-ins also welcome!

Brandy is the Women's Economic Mobility Coordinator at the WNY Women's Foundation. In this position, she is working across educational, for profit, and non-profit sectors to develop and implement equitable, holistic, and IDEA, programs and initiatives for marginalized adults in workforce development in WNY. Through her work Brandy also promotes equitable access to education and opportunity in the area.

 University at Buffalo
School of Law

Questions? Contact Amber Melvin at adiem@buffalo.edu