

Earn your Master's Degree in Criminology from anywhere!

The University at Buffalo Department of Sociology offers a fully online master's of science degree in criminology with supportive faculty and asynchronous learning where you can complete the program on your own time, from anywhere.

Get your master's degree in one year as a full-time student.

The new online master's degree in criminology has a strong foundation in sociology. You'll focus on:

- The nature and causes of crime.
- The characteristics and behaviors of people who commit a crime and who are affected by crime.
- Social inequalities linked to crime and criminal justice systems based on race, gender and social class.
- The inner workings of law enforcement agencies and criminal justice systems.
- Social reactions to crime, victims and people who commit a crime.
- Connections between crime and other social institutions.
- Data analysis and interpretation for public audiences.

The Criminology MS is ideal for learners who plan to enter or advance in careers requiring a strong background in crime or law, including:

- Policy analysis
- Data analysis
- Non-profit organizations
- Social service organizations
- Social justice advocacy
- Law enforcement
- Public safety

Enroll today!

